

GENERATING A PUBLICATION BASED ON EPHEMERAL INTERESTS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Various systems, methods, and programs embodied on computer-readable mediums are provided to generate a publication. One such method comprises the inputting an ephemeral interest into a client, wherein the ephemeral interest is of use in identifying at least one content item to be included in the publication, requesting the publication based at least in part upon the ephemeral interest from a publication system, and, printing out the publication received from the publication system, the publication including the at least one content item.
